1 Executive summary

General

The HFSP Board of Trustees approved the following awards for 2024:

- 34 Research Grants out of a total of 711 eligible Letters of Intent and 100 Full Proposals (34%). Of those awarded, 25 were Research Grants-Program and 9 were Research Grants-Early Career. The success rate of HFSP Research Grants in 2024: 4.8%
- 59 Postdoctoral Fellowships out of a total of 535 Letters of Intent and 107 Full Proposals (55%). Of those awarded, 48 were Long-Term Fellowships and 11 were Cross-Disciplinary Fellowships. The success rate of HFSP Fellowships in 2024: 11%

Canada

With awards starting in 2024, HFSP will support:

- Four Canada based scientists who are involved in 4 out of the 34 HFSP Research Grants awarded in 2024. One scientist is a Research Grants-Early Career team member as co-investigator. Three scientists were awarded Research Grants-Program, of which one is a principal investigator.
- One Canadian scientist who was awarded a Long-Term Fellowship to work in a research institution in the United States of America.
- Two Long-Term Fellows from India and Italy and one Cross-Disciplinary Fellow from Italy who will work in Canadian research institutions.

For awards in previous years, see Chapter 4 Canada 1990-2024

2 Introduction to HFSP programs

The International Human Frontier Science Program Organization (HFSP) funds an international program of research support for frontier research on the complex mechanisms of living organisms through the Human Frontier Science Program (HFSP). Research is funded at all levels of biological complexity from biomolecules to the interactions between organisms.

Key elements of HFSP's mission are to support innovative, cutting edge research at the frontiers of the life sciences, to encourage high risk research, to promote international collaboration in the spirit of science without borders, and to support early career researchers.

HFSP schemes are highly competitive, but also highly prestigious. This prestige, together with the fact that the schemes provide researchers with unique opportunities to work collaboratively across all countries and disciplines, attracts many outstanding applications each year.

HFSP Research Grants (Research Grants-Program and Research Grants-Early Career) provide 3 years of support for international teams involving at least two countries. Preference is given to intercontinental collaborations (rather than all N. American or all European teams). All team members are expected to broaden the character of their research compared to their ongoing research programs and interact with teams bringing expertise that is very different from their own so as to create novel approaches to problems in fundamental biology. All members of a Research-Grant Early Career team must be within 5 years of establishing their independent research group and no more than 10 years from their doctoral degree. Research Grant-Program teams may consist of team members at any stage of their career as independent investigators. Each grant is an award to at least two researchers from different countries. Furthermore, HFSP expects that by creating new exchanges, these international interactions will lead to innovative projects.

There is a single annual competition for HFSP Research Grants and a full description of the review process is available at:

https://www.hfsp.org/funding/hfsp-funding/research-grants#review_procedures

HFSP Fellowships support innovative, ground-breaking projects that have the potential to advance knowledge in the applicants' field of study or open a new approach to a research problem. High risk research is supported.

Long-Term Fellowships support applicants with a degree in the life science to obtain training in a new area of research in an outstanding laboratory of their choice in another country. Cross-Disciplinary Fellowships are intended for postdoctoral fellows with a degree outside the life sciences (e.g. physical sciences, chemistry, mathematics, engineering or computer sciences) who wish to receive training in biology. HFSP Fellows receive 3 years of support to obtain training in an outstanding laboratory of their choice in another country. The annual competition for HFSP Fellowship awards is explained in detail at <http://www.hfsp.org/funding/postdoctoral-fellowships>.

3 Awards in 2024 for Canada

HFSP support provided to Canadian and non-Canadian scientists working in Canadian laboratories, and Canadian scientists working abroad.

4 Canada 1990-2024

This section summarizes Canada's involvement in HFSPO funded research projects in 2024 and integrates a historical perspective with running totals over the last 10 years.

4.1 HFSP Research Grants

The table below lists the number of Canada based scientists at the Letter of Intent (LI) stage and those scientists who participated in a Full Proposal. The data shown in the table express the status at the time of submitting the application to HFSP. Scientists may have moved their laboratory to a different country in the years after receiving HFSPO support.

5 International distribution of 2024 awards

As last year, this section shows tabular breakdown according to country (location of laboratory), nationality and host country (of HFSP fellowship holders) for 2024 Awards.

In addition, this year, new figures present a country comparison for the complete record and the last 10 years of HFSP awards for MSP and a separate presentation for the awardees in or from European countries.

5.1 Research Grants 2024

34 grants were awarded (25 Research Grants-Program and 9 Research Grants-Early Career). Each grant is an award to at least two researchers from different countries. The Principal Investigator is responsible for submitting the application and coordinating the collaboration.

The countries in which the 34 Principal Investigators and the 74 co-applicants work are shown in Table I, together with the total number of applications. Their nationalities are shown in Table II.
