

Long-Term and Cross-Disciplinary Fellowships 2020

Instructions for referees

A referee is defined as a peer scientist who is familiar with the applicant's scientific career. Recommendations from two referees are required, with at least one letter from a former research supervisor.

The HFSP online system provides an interface that allows participants in all HFSP programs, regardless of their role, to maintain a personal profile and access all relevant applications from a single login.

If you encounter technical issues, please contact webmaster@hfsp.org.

Questions concerning the fellowship application should be sent to fellow@hfsp.org.

The applicant for whom you have been asked to provide a recommendation letter entered your contact email. This triggered an automatically generated email from the HFSP application server, which contains your registration information.

You do not have access to the applicant's research proposal or CV.

The fellowship applicant does not have access to the referee section.

Applicants for Long-Term or Cross-Disciplinary Fellowships can only submit their application after the referees have completed and submitted their sections.

The applicant's submission deadline is August 22, 2019, at 1:00 p.m. applicant's local time.

It is essential that you complete and submit your letter of support and personal details before the applicant's deadline.

1. IF YOU ARE NEW TO HFSP - FIRST TIME LOGIN TO REGISTER

Welcome to the HFSP extranet

You have been asked to write a letter of recommendation for an HFSP fellowship applicant.

Your letter is a required part of the application. The applicant will only be able to submit the application once your section is completed and submitted.

Your recommendation is confidential and will not be accessible to the applicant.

You can access the various pages by clicking on the appropriate menu items on the left.

Do not forget to click "SAVE" in the upper menu bar before switching pages.

The menu on the left hand side of the welcome page provides access to the sections of the application you must complete.

A referee has to fill in the menu items “personal details” and “recommendation”.

Before you switch sections or log out, make sure to click “SAVE”. New information will be stored on the HFSP server.

Note that the system will automatically log you out after 40 minutes unless you click “SAVE” while you work. However, we recommend that you work offline.

Technical problems should be reported to webmaster@hfsp.org

If you are new to HFSP please enter your personal details in the appropriate fields. Fields marked with an asterisk are mandatory.

If you are returning to HFSP your personal details are automatically populated in this section. Should any of your information have changed, please update it.

Please indicate at the bottom of the page the number of postdoctoral fellows/PhD students you have mentored/trained so far.

We recommend that you register your ORCID identifier (if you have one) as this helps us distinguish scientists who have identical names and first names.

4.2. Recommendation

You have 3,000 characters including spaces and punctuation to convince the review committee of the excellence of the applicant's track record as a researcher, of their competence and the training potential for the applicant in the proposed research area. The strongest letters contain details specific to the applicant and their research, and directly address the HFSP evaluation criteria. Be aware of unconscious bias¹ when writing your letter and focus most of your comments on scientific competencies, not personality traits.

The evaluation criteria to be addressed are:

How do you rate the accomplishments of the candidate in terms of career stage and field of research?

Describe the potential of the applicant with regard to independent thinking, willingness to tackle challenging projects and to overcome technical problems.

Which unique contributions did the applicant make to your/his/her research team?

Describe the contribution of the applicant to multi-author publications from your lab.

How will the change in research direction proposed by the applicant broaden their expertise and enable them to achieve their scientific goals?

We recommend that you work offline, save your recommendation letter in regular ASCII format and then copy and paste it into the appropriate field. Please use a text editor such as "Notepad" (PC) or "TextWrangler" (Mac). Formatting and Greek or mathematical symbols cannot be pasted into the forms.

4.3. Feedback

This section will not be sent to the review committee, but is used by HFSP to improve our online system. Any other information that cannot be included in the application may also be entered here. This information is not accessible to the applicant.

4.4 Preview

You can preview your personal details, the recommendation letter and feedback (if any).

5. SUBMISSION

This is the last step in the process.

The applicant can only submit their application after your information has been submitted. Please ensure that you have filled in all mandatory fields before submitting.

You finalize by clicking “Submit”.

Both you and the applicant will immediately receive an email confirmation about the successful completion of this section of the application.

At this point you can no longer modify the recommendation letter.
